TOP FIVE REASONS WHY SAFETY TRAINING IS A WASTE OF TIME AND MONEY

1. It's boring – Presenters read their slides and go through the motions; people tune out and waste their time.

2. Presenters are untrained in instruction – they have minimal or no formal training in education and adult learning; they don't engage your people.

3. People look at it as "a day off" and do not take it seriously – they aren't held accountable for results; safety isn't part of the organizational culture.

4. It lacks enduring outcomes – behaviour changes are unclear and there is no permanent change; it's a waste your money.

5. One size does not fit all – canned presentations are too common and they don't fit the organization; it's a waste of time and money.
At Armour Safety, customers receive engaging and customized training, delivered by specialists in adult education.
